

Faith and Logic

Nearly a hundred years ago, presidential advisor Bernard Baruch said, “Whatever failures I have known, whatever errors I have committed, whatever follies I have witnessed in private and public life, have been the consequence of action without thought.”

It’s no wonder that financiers and presidents sought the advice of this man! A lot of people view faith and logic as opposite ends of the spectrum, but that’s simply not true. In fact, God gives this invitation to us all, “Come, and let’s reason together, says The Lord. Though your sins are like scarlet, they can be made white like wool.”

Faith is not a crutch for the intellectually weak. Some of the greatest minds in history were men and women who knew the world changing power that a mind committed to the Lord can possess.
